Reviews The Battle for Spain: The Spanish Civil War, 1936–1939 by Antony Beevor is published by New York: Little Brown and Company. The introduction, "Dirty War", is by Karl Schleunes. The book is mainly an attempt to explain in a clear and rational way the events which took place in the "Battle of the Ebro", which was to involve almost every German, Italian and Spanish participant. The Aral Sea is a large inland sea on the borders of Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan and Turkmenistan. In the year 2006, the lake had an area of 7,400 km2 and a maximum depth of – making it the largest inland sea in Asia. In the Middle Ages, this part of Asia was the "Silk Road" connecting the Middle East and the Far East. The battle of Minsk is fought in Belarus, where in the year 1944 German and Soviet forces fought each other in one of the bloodiest battles of the entire Second World War. A bloody and great history book that recounts the brutal, uncompromising and bloody struggle between Nazism and Communism in the early part of the 20th century and the new dividing line between two vastly different modern worlds. This is not a history book, but a work of journalism on a very complex topic. It is written in a direct, straightforward style which is neither exciting nor dull. It is meticulously researched and gives a fair insight into what happened. This book is a collection of the author's papers relating to his investigations in Basque country and their relation to the book which will be published in 2010.
